

President's Departure from California is a Continuous Ovation.

EVERY STATION IS WILSON-MAD.

Cheering Throngs Line Entire Way Out of State.

Executive Makes Brief Talk to Sacramento Crowd.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

ON BOARD PRESIDENT WILSON'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Sept. 22.—Crowds of cheering Californians greeted President Wilson at many points today as his special train turned eastward to begin the last week's run of its ten thousand mile journey.

Long before the President was up in the morning his train ran through dense throngs that had gathered at the smaller stations in the hope that he might come out and wave them good morning. At Merced, Turlock and Modesto the crowds lined the track for a block on each side of the station, but the train did not stop.

At Stockton, where a ten-minute stop was made during the forenoon, a band was out, a speaker started his speech, and a large crowd, and a turbulent crowd tried in vain to induce Mr. Wilson to make a speech. Failing that, they surged around the rear platform in an effort to stop his band. A few of them succeeded because of the swirling currents of pushing, shouting enthusiastic humanity which swept back and forth irresistibly.

One member of the Presidential party got caught in the whirlpool and tumbled back into the center of the crowd and into the hands of two secret service men had to fight their way out and rescue him. There were many children in the crowd which kept up such a din of shouting that when Mr. Wilson stopped the train to say a word of greeting his voice was scarcely audible to those nearest him.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 22.—The League of Nations in the guarantee of justice and without the treaty of peace with Germany, including the covenant, the world would sink back into that slough of Despond in which mankind was before this war. President Wilson had the right to a word of greeting his voice was scarcely audible to those nearest him.

The league affords the only hope of China of the restoration of the rights of the Shantung and also it is the hope of other nations for the sovereignty that has been taken from them, the President asserted. The President said that the enthusiastic welcome was the best pleasure to him, because it showed not only a desire to welcome him personally but interest in "the great rights I have come out to advocate."

After reaching the Southern Pacific Station the train passed through lines of school children who waved American flags and shouted to the President heartily. The departure of the train was delayed a short time because the crowd had come in such numbers in front of the train and it was difficult for the police to clear a way for the special to pull out.

A large percentage of the crowd was women and children. There was a delegation of Red Cross women and these presented the President with a basket of choice fruit.

PRESIDENT CALLS HIS TRAIN A SHOW.

WILSON IS FIRM ON FIUME. Insists Strategic Considerations be Supplanted by Nationality.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

ON BOARD PRESIDENT WILSON'S SPECIAL TRAIN, STOCKTON, Sept. 22.—Although White House officials aboard President Wilson's train declined today to discuss published reports of a new agreement for disposition of Fiume, they indicated that there had been no change in the President's position on the subject.

Several times during his speaking tour Mr. Wilson has referred in his address to Italy's desire to acquire Fiume, "declaring it was a claim on strategic grounds, rather than on the principle of nationality." Awards of territory for strategic purposes, he said, in that connection were avoided, because, in the new order set up by the League of Nations, strategic considerations were supplanted by considerations of nationality and self-determination.

In line with these declarations it was agreed that a new proposal had been made to give Fiume to Italy it had not been received favorably by the President. Officials would not predict, however, whether it would hold out indefinitely, or, again, such a settlement if all the other interested parties agreed.

WAIT WILSON'S WORD.

BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.] PARIS, Sept. 22.—There were indications today that the supreme council might accept the suggestion of the Dalmatian question on the basis of a formula making Fiume Italian, but neutral—that is, not allowing Italy to keep it from the Yugoslav and internationalizing the docks and railroads, the safety of which the Jugo-Slav and Central European interests. This plan was submitted to President Wilson on Sept. 17 and awaiting his decision.

One boy apparently about six years old attempted vainly to force his way to the platform calling out: "I want to shake hands with the President." Finally a man picked him up and as he was passed over the platform, the boy, who had been shaking hands with him and then patted him on the head before he handed him back to the nearest man.

STOCKTON OUT ENMASS.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

STOCKTON, Sept. 22.—Several thousand people greeted President Wilson as his train pulled into the local station at 10:45 a.m. today en route to Reno. The train stopped ten minutes and the President put in the time waving to the crowd. Mrs. Wilson was summoned in response to the call of the crowd.

A platform speaker for the President but secret service men refused to permit him to leave the train. He made no speech.

RIVER BOAT STRIKERS DEMAND CONFERENCE.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—A telegram demanding that the Southern Pacific Company grant them a conference was sent to Walker D. Hines, United States Railroad Administrator, by representatives of Barge and River Boat Transportation Workers' Union, which is on strike in San Francisco, Sacramento and Stockton.

The union, which is in the demand of the Master Mates' and Pilots' Association and the Marine Engineers' Association. Efforts of the Water Front Workers' Federation to end the strike have proved unavailing, officials of that organization said.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 22.—All river shipping continued tied up here today as a result of the strike Saturday of workers on river and harbor boats who left their jobs simultaneously here and at San Francisco and Stockton.

BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 22.—The Bolsheviks have made all preparations for the evacuation of Petrograd, according to a Holstingsborg dispatch to Central News Agency.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Admiral Kolchak, head of the all-Russian government at Omsk, has informed

Around-the-Rim Plane to Helena.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

BILLINGS (Mont.) Sept. 22.—After spending the night here, the Martin army bombing plane, flying 'round the rim' of the United States, will start at 9 o'clock for Helena. The plane, in command of Col. R. M. Harts, expects to land at Helena by noon. The four members of the crew were guests at a banquet here tonight.

SAN DIEGO RAILROAD TO BEGIN TERMINALS.

PERMISSION SOUGHT TO RENEW CONSTRUCTION WORK ON IMPERIAL LINE.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Indicating that the San Diego and Arizona Railroad Company is to begin work on its San Diego lines and terminals soon, a petition was filed by the company with the State Railroad Commission here today for permission for this work. The line will run between San Diego and Imperial Valley points.

Authorization to reimburse its treasury to the extent of $2,519,377 from preferred stock sales was granted the Pacific Gas and Electric Company by the State Railroad Commission here today. The company announced it had an extension and improvement program calling for the expenditure of $10,000,000.

A rehashing of the action whereby it appraised the properties of the Northern California Power Company in addition of $4,141,000 to the company's valuation of $226,301 in negotiations by the city to purchase, was conducted by the State Railroad Commission here today. The hearing was petitioned for by the company.

MANY CALIFORNIANS GET PATENT RIGHTS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.] WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Californians have been granted patents as follows:

Ross S. Carlino, Los Angeles, pianist and composer.

William J. Coven, San Francisco, non-leaking recharging syringe.

John J. Eagan, San Francisco, concrete vase.

Oscar H. Ensign, Pasadena, assignor to Ensign Carburetor Company, Los Angeles, carburetor.

Charles L. Goughner, Pasadena, assignor to the United Electric Company, Los Angeles, vacuum cleaner.

Abraham L. Hedge, Long Beach, signaling device.

John H. Henderson, Oakland, egg carrier.

Mrs. A. Jackson and L. P. Jackson, Los Angeles, pie baker.

Robert D. Jackson, San Francisco, pulp classifier.

Charles C. Redman, assignor of one-half to M. Feisler, Los Angeles, can opener and clothes.

Charles C. Shepardson, Los Angeles, kerosene burner.

Norman Shupps, Long Beach, game apparatus.

OREGON PIONEER DEAD.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 22.—Mrs. Rebecca J. Barger died today at the home of her niece, Mrs. J. M. Freeman, here, aged 95 years. She crossed the plains from Missouri to this State in 1847.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Dismissal of the indictments against Alan McEwen, San Francisco news writer, and Franklin P. Bull, San Francisco attorney, charging complicity in a widespread scheme to defraud in connection with the sale of government and railroad lands in Oregon, was ordered today by United States District Judge Dooling here today.

Dooling today imposed a fine of $1500 on S. A. D. Putter, H. D. and W. A. Putter and J. T. Van Wormer, each $100, and A. L. Hakes, $250. All had pleaded guilty of charges of mailing of mails in connection with sale of government lands.

The President also discussed the objection that the British empire would have an unequal representation in the League of Nations. Mr. Wilson said the people had been "diligently misinformed" about the contents of the document.

Reporting his hearings whether they had heard of organizations in America "the purpose of which is nothing less than to overturn the government itself," he added that it was important to America also that unrest be quieted.

PEOPLE MISINFORMED.

Reporting his previous declaration in support of Article X and other disputed points of the treaty, the President said the people had been "diligently misinformed" about the contents of the document. He lauded the labor and mandatory features of the treaty, saying it contained "a just guarantee of justice and liberty."

The President also discussed the objection that the British empire would have an unequal representation in the League of Nations. Mr. Wilson said the people had been "diligently misinformed" about the contents of the document.

In the instance of the United States, said Mr. Wilson, that Japan promised to return the Shantung rights to China and international law was so "revolutionized" by Article XI of the covenant that the great powers would be in a position to secure fulfillment of that promise.

WOULD GET IN, NOT OUT.

Discussing the withdrawal feature, Mr. Wilson said he did not want to get into the league with a fear he might not be able to get out. He wanted to go in with the hope of staying in and helping all the countries.

"I want to get into any kind of trouble that will help liberate mankind. I don't want to always be thinking about my own safety or my personal safety, my friendships."

He added that when those opposing the league feel "the impulse of courage instead of the impulse of cowardice," they would see the question in its proper light.

that because of the conditions it seemed advisable to maintain the army until he came here to adjust the world again.

Universal training was advocated as "the best line of defense," which Gen. McAndrew said should give more money than revenue.

Second to universal training said, a large number of officers had experience abroad. Gen. McAndrew has accepted Gen. Wood before a Senate committee that universal training would save the lives of many men in case of war.

Permanent addition of the soul of pay for soldiers was advocated, promotion of officers from a single list, and the reserve officer corps to be the air service be maintained both by army and navy, and the tank corps be developed "up stream with the world."

MILLIONS LOST IN OIL STOCKS.

Texas Furnishes as Many Losers as Any Other State.

In Most Instances Purchases Made Purely as Gamble.

Small Investor Can Get Dividends by Using Judgment.

BY W. D. HORNADAY.
(STAFF CORRESPONDENT)

AUSTIN (Tex.) Sept. 17.—No one knows how many million dollars have been lost by carelessness and over-zealous investors in worthless oil stock in Texas during the last several months. In the aggregate the amount is enormous. In most cases the purchase of these oil company shares were looked upon as a gamble by the investor; in other cases the misguided buyers were made to believe that they were going to make a fortune out of a few hundred dollars' investment. While the victims of the oil sharks are scattered all over the United States and the rest is scattered to every day, there are more to be found in Texas than in any other State. The lifetime savings of many a man and woman have been lost in the wild and erratic schemes of the oil company manipulators. Already a large number of court proceedings have been instituted for the recovery of money lost in this manner.

Notwithstanding the swindles that are perpetrated in the sale of oil stocks that have no real value, there is a legitimate side to this phase of the industry that is bringing profitable results to those who are not afraid to take a risk.

It is stated that the trouble with the wells drilled here in the past is that they have been drilled to a depth enough. Competent geologists have expressed the opinion that oil paying wells will be found in Parker county at not less depth than 4000 feet. No total well has yet been sunk to that depth.

So far as immediate development is concerned, it depends upon what is found by the test wells now being drilled. Those wells that have been developed are producing oil at shallower depths and it does not look reasonable to suppose there will be any great development in Parker county until the oil companies have been thoroughly exploited, unless there should be some unusual development among the wildcatters now working in different portions of Parker county.

During the past several days there has been considerable discussion in oil circles over the alleged appearance of salt water in a number of wells in the towns of Buda and Burkhardt, Oklahoma. If this problem really exists it is thought it can be overcome, just as is done in the gulf coast states. The Railroad Commission has ordered an investigation of the situation as regards the encountering of salt water in some of the wells.

NEW POOL OPENED.

In the Desdemona district there has been one especially important well among a number of good completions recently. The Comanche Northern Oil Company has a well on the D. E. Carruth tract a mile and a half southwest of the town of Desdemona that has a flow production of 4500 barrels from the Duke sand. There is yet some question as to whether the Comanche Northern is extension to the pool or is a separate pool or not. The reports do not indicate the latter, as the new well is practically surrounded by gassers and wells of very small production.

It is in the farthest southeast well in the field, being about ten and a half miles east and a little south of the Carruth well of the Peerless Petroleum Company, which is the nearest production to the Comanche Northern. Between the Peerless and the new well there are a number of gas wells that come in to break off the line of production between the two. Gas wells appear to the south and southeast of the Comanche Northern well, and to the west of the Phoenix Oil Company, which has a small initial production. The Phoenix Northern opens a new pool of considerable small area.

Along the extreme eastern border of the Desdemona field Skelly and Sankey have just completed a 2000-barrel well on the Anderson tract.

While this well is on the outer edge of the town, it is not far enough to strictly an outside well, and it does not afford much of an extension to the present area of the field. In the already proven territory around the town the Texas Company has brought in another 3000-barrel well on the G. N. Grice farm. On the Prater-Grice lease west of the town the Gulf Production Company has a well on top of the pay which is to be drilled in at a later date.

Mascho and Maxwell have a 4000-barrel well on the Rushing town line No. 1. It offsets the Ellison lease of the Humble Oil and Refining Company and is an adjoining block to the well of the Texas and Oklahoma Drilling and Development Company.

TWO WELLS BROUGHT IN.

In the southern, or Ranger, territory, there have been two important wells during the last few days, one the latest addition to the Ranger pool project and the other in the Desdemona district. One of these, the Poteet No. 4, of Root, Hupp and Duff, west of the Pleasant Grove church, has been drilled into the lower Ranger sand and is estimated one of the best wells in the field.

This well is a mile west of the Perkins well, drilled by the same men, but later sold to the Poteet. The Poteet No. 4 is coming from the lower Ranger sand, showing about 100 barrels daily. It is showing about the same as the Perkins and the Poteet did at similar depths.

The Perkins well, drilled by the same men, but later sold to the Poteet, has an initial flow of 4500 barrels from the lower Ranger sand. This is another well that has been showing for oil for several days, but only lately has been producing.

The Husco-Ranger Oil Company has another 600-barrel well on the Holloman tract in the northern part of Eastland county. This well is on the Shaver tract at 1000 feet.

Gossip has been busy marraging Gen. Pershing off for several months, several American women having been mentioned as the "Mrs. Pershing to be." Gen. Pershing has paid no attention to these rumors since his return to the United States and he could not be asked tonight about the latest report that he is about to wed Washington and his whereabouts are still secret.

With the exception of a small number of completions and the possible opening up of some new producing areas, there has been little news very late for two weeks. Among the late completions in this field is the Texas company's Morgan No. 6 in the northwest part of the new field, which is a 3000-barrel well, the El Paso No. 1 of the Rock Pool No. 1. Oil Company, which is a 2000-barrel well. A large number of other wells are on top of the sand, standardizing and should be in soon.

COUNTY UNDER LEASE.

WEATHERFORD (Tex.) Sept. 17.—Practically all the land in Parker county is under lease for oil prospecting and development purposes. At this time there are two wells in the county, one of which is being drilled in Parker county. These wells are widely scattered over the county, and it is believed that several of them will be producers.

THREE NATIONS ON WAR BRINK.

Von der Goltz's Army Won't Evacuate Lithuania.

Rumanian Forces Refuse to Get Out of Hungary.

D'Annunzio's Italians Stubbornly Stay in Fiume.

BY HENRY WALES.
(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE PRESS)

PARIS, Sept. 22.—Despite assertion by President Wilson that the entire world was sickened with war and bloodshed, and all the people were turning toward the Peace Conference and the League of Nations to avoid future strife, there are three instances where the dictates and demands of the Peace Conference are reigning and where the people are ready to go to war, if the Peace Conference should try to carry out its program by force.

These three are: Von der Goltz's army refuses to evacuate Lithuania.

The Rumanians refuse to evacuate Hungary.

D'Annunzio's Italians refuse to give up Fiume.

Determination of these people not to follow the directions given by the Peace Conference is due largely to the fact that everyone realizes the Peace Conference is unable to back up the ultimatum it makes.

CAN MUSTER NO THROOPS.

Following the idealistic theories of President Wilson, it was insisted that all evidence of force among the Allies would be obliterated, and under his leadership the Peace Conference rid itself of every vestige of physical support.

Following the American attitude, the British and French soon found themselves in a position where they could not muster any troops to be sent anywhere without carrying out the Peace Conference decisions.

The American commission here still believes in "economic pressure" and financial strings upon the recalcitrant powers, after it is demonstrated that the people governed are willing to trade with the enemies and cannot be lined up to maintain blockades and embargoes now.

A MATTER OF PRICE.

When the Rumanians entered Budapest they were threatened with economic blockades and financial embargoes, and now the Americans propose threatening Germany in the same way if Von der Goltz's troops are not taken out of Lithuania, and telling Italy the same.

Following the American attitude, the British and French already are showing that they will buy or sell from Germany, if the Germans offer the best price, and it is thought the Rumanians will do the same.

Before starting the attack I directed my troops that under no circumstances should they fire in the direction of El Paso, my object being to avoid damage to person and property, and to keep the frontier and faithful to these instructions no shots were fired in that direction," says Villa. "But the coward, Francisco Gómez, following instructions of his chief, the Comandante Carranza, has crossed the frontier and, I fear, has been already dislodged from the city, ordered that they open fire on El Paso, and I directed the military commander in that city to intervene, making him believe that it was our troops that had fired from this side of the border.

"Upon receiving notice that the American forces had crossed the frontier, I gave orders that my troops should retire from the city of Juarez, not that I feared battle, because we are always ready to die in defense of our country, but because

I comprehended that the order had been given through error of the American military chief, instigated and vilely deceived by the commandant of Juarez, and under these circumstances I directed the troops to withdraw from the city of Juarez, not that I feared battle, because we are always ready to die in defense of our country, but because

An average drawer load weighs fifty pounds. This Shaw-Walker drawer is holding about ten times that weight. And bears a easily without lagging. (From actual photograph.)

SHAW-WALKER
STEEL LETTER FILES

EVERY time you pull open a Shaw-Walker drawer, two "Voluntary Slides" run out to support it. That's why capacity-loaded drawers "coast" smoothly, noiselessly. They're non-rebounding, too.

Shaw-Walkers are "Built like a Skyscraper," with a framework of skyscraper steel. Electric-welded into one solid mass. No nuts—bolts—rivets—bolts—screws.

We believe you'll say Shaw-Walkers are the best files ever made. If, after trying a Shaw-Walker, you don't think so—your money back—quick! Order one by 'phone.

WOOD FILES

Shaw-Walker also manufactures a complete line of filing cabinets in wood; as well as supplies for all files.

The First Pinhole in a Tooth—Then What?

That first little cavity may mean a condition that will lay waste all your splendid white teeth in the years to come.

More likely than not the condition is "Acid-Mouth." For it is understood that only 1 person in 20 escapes this arch-enemy of good teeth.

PEBECO TOOTH PASTE

Counteracts "Acid-Mouth"

Pebeco counteracts "Acid-Mouth" by stimulating the flow of normal, alkaline saliva, which is the most natural tooth cleanser and mouth wash, and therefore the most effective antidote to harmful mouth acids.

Use Pebeco twice a day, and have your teeth periodically examined by your dentist.

Pebeco is sold
by druggists everywhere

POMONA, Sept. 22.—James Wolstencroft, manager of the Walnut Growers' Association, has just completed an estimate of the new crop of walnuts which will be ready for market in two weeks. Figures indicate that there will be harvested the greatest crop in the history of the valley. In the new crop there will be from 600 and 700 tons, which is four times the yield of the previous season. The increase of the increase is due to a greater crop on the trees and the remainder is from the new groves just coming into bearing.

New prices for the walnuts have not yet been established but it is certain they will be as high as they were last year when the first grade product brought twenty-eight cents per pound. It is expected that the new crop will return to the growers from $25,000 to $40,000.

"BEATS ANYTHING I'VE EVER SEEN"

Can Almost Do Two Days' Work in One, Now

San Francisco Man Praises Tanlac

Never Felt Better in His Life Than Now

"I don't remember a time in my life when I felt better than I do since taking Tanlac," said Carl Mihalovite, a well known poultryman who lives at 182 Leaven street, San Francisco, a few days ago.

"I haven't been what you would call a well man for over ten years," continued Mr. Mihalovite, "and for the past year my health has been exceptionally poor. For many years I have been badly constipated, and had to take a laxative of some kind every day, and often I would have violent spells of headache. Finally my stomach began to give me trouble, and this had gradually grown worse until I reached the point where everything I ate disagreed with me. Gas would form on my stomach and rise up into my chest, and cause my head to throb. I sometimes had come on me after going to bed at night, and I would not sleep a wink, and would get up in the morning so weak and tired out that I could hardly get about. It just seemed impossible for me to find a medicine or treatment that would do me any good, and I just kept on going down hill until I was almost past traveling."

"Well Tanlac came along then, and as so many people were endorsing it, I thought there must be something to it so I bought a bottle of it and commenced taking it, and the way it has overcome my troubles and built me up again is something I have ever seen or heard of. Why, I sleep like a log ten hours every night and when morning comes I jump out of bed and eat a hearty breakfast and am off to my work feeling fine and dandy. I am now full of strength that I almost feel like I do again. I eat about two and a half pounds of Tanlac every day, and my entire system has been wonderfully built up. It was a lucky day for me when I got hold of Tanlac, and as long as I live I will praise this wonderful medicine for relieving me of years of suffering and giving me good health again."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by the Owl Drug Co. [Advertisement]

QUIT CITY POSITION.

Long Beach Engineer Resigns; Other News Notes of Interest.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE

LONG BEACH, Sept. 22.—Giving the press of personal business alone as the reason, Fred Hoffman, appointed City Engineer two months ago, by John D. Seire, Commissioner of Public Works, tendered his resignation this afternoon to the head of his department. Funeral services for him will be held at the First United Methodist Church, 20th and Hill streets, at 10 a.m. tomorrow. The bodies of both will be interred at Sunny-side Cemetery.

LIVED AT LONG BEACH. G. H. Woods, who was finally injured Monday morning, when a Los Angeles police machine gunned down a street car, was a resident of the avenue. He was one of the proprietors of the Long Beach Pier Bureau, 200 East First street.

He had conducted a mercantile business in Los Angeles. It was on the way to investigate a robbery of his store in that city that he received the injuries that resulted in his death.

AVIATOR FUNERALS

Funeral services for A. G. Gurney, the local aviator who was killed Sunday morning in the airplane crash near the hangars of the Western Aviation Company on the Harbor boulevard, will be held Tuesday afternoon at the Patterson and McQuillin undertaking parlor. Dr. Henry Kendall Booth, pastor of the First Congregational Church, will officiate.

Edwin Birnie, the other Long Beach boy who had been shot in the plane collision and fell to the earth from a height of 200 feet, will be buried Wednesday afternoon.

Funeral services for him will be held at the First United Methodist Church, 20th and Hill streets, at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Armid Bodie officiates. The bodies of both will be interred at Sunny-side Cemetery.

The People and Their Troubles

They're Wearing Them Higher in Paris Than Hawaii.

By JANE DIXON.

NEW YORK.—Maybe they are "wearing them higher in Hawaii." No matter how high they are wearing, accept it from Charles Kurzman, the Parisian tailor of martial New York, the guinea fowl of the ukulele is a sand have nothing on the classy frocks of the Rue de la Paix.

Paris is wearing its skirts higher, its waists shorter, than it ever did before.

As for the sleeves of Paris—well, my dear, the sleeve is as extinct in the gay French city as a Bryan Presidential boom or the more recent Bronx cocktail.

Mr. Kurzman is just back from Deauville, and other fashion cities, where he has been managing for the smartest models money can buy and fancy can dictate.

Mr. Kurzman is an artist. A beautiful gown is to him a beautiful picture. But when he sees the daring abandonment of the new Parisian post-humous school of dress he puts his trembling hand to his troubled brow and sighs, "It can't be done—not in America."

"For the sleeves have I seen such domes of women who spend from $100,000 to $150,000 a year on frocks alone, the effect is startling."

"I used to be a gambler in the evening, to toy with fortune across the table or to dance. The evening gowns are magnificent—what these are of them is beyond me. They are the most wonderful gowns I have ever seen. They have sleeves, backs and shoulders, and are hung with raps of pearls, each gem of which represents a fortune. Somewhere, somehow, there must have been someone fattening on the fat."

New York's expert went on to explain the significance of the famous French racing and health resort, Deauville, as it affects fashion. It is here that has first abiding.

There trots the darling of the footlights, the music hall favorite, the celebrated songbird of the opera, the dancing dominique, the dancer who has affected the fancy of fickle fashion. They go to see and be seen. They are the human peacock to whom the triumph of a gown means as much as Claude Thierry to an American marine.

"What women were wearing at Deauville a few weeks ago I see in the Palm Beach and our fashion-conscious southern resorts this winter. We will not get the styles here generally until next season."

COVERED WITH GEMS.

The daughters of fashion leave in the matter of materials they make up in jewels. Women are literally covered with gems, diamonds the size of plums, great burning rubies, brilliant emeralds, and topazes. Their backs are hung with raps of pearls, each gem of which represents a fortune.

"Somewhere, somehow, there must have been someone fattening on the fat."

"Are they wearing large hats or small hats?" the American woman will ask.

"HATS OF ALL SIZES."

"They are wearing both large and small hats, and all the sizes in between. The Parisians do not bother about the size or shape of hats. Her sole care is to have it becoming. It must be smart, dashing, chic, picturesque—any of these features will do, but one of them it must have."

"I saw a great many soft Tom o' Shanters. They were wearing them at Deauville with their fluffy afternoons, and Tom Shanters, the artist cap as it is called over there, is always prevalent in Paris and the fashionable resorts. So is the tricorn. They are worn by men from the moment when fashion abhors them everywhere else. Somehow they seem to suit the women where here they would appear cheap and affected."

"An artist's hat is a real estate institution. It must be built to fit the face. No two faces are alike. To select an hat-hat is to make up one's ridings. None so attracts from the looks of a woman as a carelessly arranged, unbecoming artist's cap. Mme. Georgette, one of the smartest of the French fashion girls, wears a long, low afternoon frock of white silk muslin trimmed with white coque feathers in the form of soft fringe, and with it an artist's cap or black velvet cap. She does not care for the Parisian shoe. It looks all right there, because one gets accustomed to it. Here it would be ridiculous."

"The distinguishing feature of the evening gown was their lack of sleeves. A sleeve looks out of place in Paris these days. If it occurs at all, it is usually unnoticed, reaching only to the elbow or above. NO GLOVES.

"Oddly enough, there are no gloves worn with short sleeves. What a harvest it would have been for glove makers if they could have induced the fashion to originate to decree gloves. When gloves are worn with sleeveless gowns they are gauntlet affairs reaching just above the elbow. They prefer one-piece short sleeves."

"Even the business woman wears a one-piece dress of sateen or satin or some practical material: never a silk. The best of it will always be, though, some little individual touch about the dress, some high light the wearer has added to suit her type, her personality. They are wizards with a bit or ribbon, a knot or a bow."

"French women seldom wear gowns with sleeveless gowns they are gauntlet affairs reaching just above the elbow. They prefer one-piece short sleeves."

The best of it will always be, though, some little individual touch about the dress, some high light the wearer has added to suit her type, her personality. They are wizards with a bit or ribbon, a knot or a bow."

"French fashion artists seem to have come mad at the subject of drawings. Everything is draped two are draped alike. Each is draped to conform with the material and the figure it is to fit. This gives the colors a chance to display the utmost of their talents. It requires an artist to drap a gown. A badly draped gown will bring out every defect in a woman's figure. It will even carry a woman's good figure. Do not risk draping unless you know for a certainty the trick of combining lines, folds, curves and sweeps."

"The French woman is too clever to adapt herself to a style. She adopts the style herself. This evening wears her own style, yes, but not too short. They are of the length suitable to her height and figure. She will never burlesque herself to be in the fashion."

"I noticed a great quantity of trich, both in millinery and as garniture for gowns. Every day one of the famous houses of dress displays a new way of utilizing feathers until their possibilities seem endless. They are a part of the opulence, the richness of attire, prettier, everything."

"As for hats, no one seems to be strictly matter of individual choice. I saw every color and every shade of every color, on the dancing floor and elsewhere about the gaming tables at Deauville. Your favorite color, your most becoming color, that is the one to choose. They can not be too gay. They can not be too delicate. A rumba tonight and a pink-like pale dawn tomorrow night. The next night black, or emerald green, or hyacinth."

I asked Mr. Kurzman to tell me which, of all the gowns that flashed across the panoramic film of fashion, was the most vivid in imagination. She showed me the most vivid imagination of that mind. Which was his own selection?

"BLAMES THE IRISH.

AMERICAN HUSBANDS OBJECT.

"She will not," was the determined reply. "Do you know why? Because the American man, the American husband and father and brother will never stand for it. The French look at those things differently. The American man—well, he is just American man, that's all. He has his own code of honor about dress as about all things, his own idea of the proprieties and protection of the women of his household."

"It is an American woman who would have a one-piece with a belt reaching reaching above the knee and below the armpits as the women do at Deauville she would be arrested when she came to town."

Los Angeles' Great All-Around Athlete Champion is Game; Vernons Hit the Ball Hard

THOMSON HAS FIGHTING HEART

National All-Around Champ Game to the Core.

Emulates Famous Brother's Field Stunts.

Collapses at Finish of a Grueling Race.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

Six years ago a gangling, loose-jointed high school youth of sixteen summers entered an all-round track and field-meet at Bovard Field and placed sixth in 8 field of seven events, totaling 43454 points.

Last Saturday the aforesaid youth, S. Harrison Thomson, younger brother of Fred Thomson, the sterling athlete who won the Bovard Field competition with 74113 points to his credit, emulated his famous brother's example and won the national all-round championship for a crowd of 10,000 persons at Franklin Field. This time he tallied 6154 points.

FIGHTING HEART.

In so doing he displayed the same fighting heart, the same will-to-win spirit that gained for Fred Thomson, a student at Princeton Theological Seminary, in 1913 not only an all-around championship but a world record, for the marvelous Fred shattered, in a meet at Princeton on June 5, 1913, the former mark held by Martin Sheridan of the Irish-American Athlete Club, adding 114 points to Sheridan's record and twenty-three to that made by Jim Thorpe at the Olympic games in Sweden, which was subsequently disallowed by the Indian's professionalism.

Fred Thomson's score was 7495 points. Sheridan's mark was 7385 and Thorpe 7475. It is established a new mark will be necessary for him to run the mile in 5m. 50s. He made it in 5m. 25.5s, giving him the title.

STRUGGLED ON.

The Pershing Field meet, it is reported, had just as dramatic an ending. Harrison Thomson was leading for the title when the race began, but it was necessary for him to gain so many points to be sure of the championship. Outdistanced by his competitors he gamely struggled to the finish, and collapsed. He learned of his victory when revived.

His little brother Fred, the younger Thomson is a product of Occidental College. He is one of four brothers all of whom played on Tiger athletic teams. "Heed, and Will," the latest now dead, had pushed their endeavors to football. They were the oldest. Fred started his activities when in Occidental Academy. In those days he was a star athlete, a competitor in the college teams, and the robust young Tiger was just about one-half of the varsity eleven. He became a star at all lines of college sport.

He was inclined to be a bit pugnacious, and when he first essayed to run the high hurdles he was the shirk of laughter from the side lines, but he outdistanced his critics by developing into one of the best high stick artists ever turned out in the south, and for a number of years held the Southern California record. He took up all-around work and it soon became a daily sight on the Tiger grounds to watch the young Hercules going through a whole track meet by himself. He was a bear for work, and the coaches found it impossible to ever convince him that he had not the strength of his own weight. At first Fred gained the nickname of "Pelly," and he surely looked it as he flapped along the track in those early days.

BECAME A STAR.

The nickname descended to Harrison Thomson, with the prefix "Young." He was fast developing into a star at the Orange and Black institution when the war broke out, and bid fair to follow in his brother's footsteps. After the signing of the Armistice, he took part in the inter-collegiate meet at Pasadena, and was a star. On his arrival from France he entered Princeton.

A comparison of Fred Thomson's record made in 1913 with Harrison Thomson's in 1916 is most interesting. Fred placed first in seven events—the sixteen-pound shot put, 556-yard walk, sixteen-pound hammer throw, high hurdles, fifty-six-pound weight, broad jump and mile run. He tied for first in the pole vault, tied for second in the high jump, and was second in the 100-yard dash.

THERE WITH HAMMER.

Harrison's victories came in the running high jump, 400-yard walk and sixteen-pound hammer throw. He took seconds in the 100-yard dash, sixteen-pound shot put, pole vault, 556-yard high hurdles, the fifty-six-pound weight throw. In the running broad jump and one-mile run "Young Felly" placed fourth.

Harrison Thomson's total of points, $1284, is not as impressive as Fred's $1644. Fred is 54 years old, but he comes far from being the seasoned athlete that Fred was when he made his world's record. The latter had put in four years of college work, and one year and three more at Princeton before he cracked the then existing record. The younger man is still an undergraduate.

BILLY WILLIAMS IS BACK FROM FRANCE

Billy Williams, former L. A. A. C. diving star and winner of the international championship at San Francisco in 1915, has returned from France, where, according to Vance Wirth, he served on every American flying front. He arrived in Los Angeles Sunday night and reported to club headquarters yesterday. Williams was a photographer's unit.

Virth is all hopped up over Williams' return, and is sure that the opposition will find it tough sledding to take any honors from the Mercury divers. Wirth reports that in all probability Williams will participate in the Southern California high diving championship at Venice on October 11.

TIGERS BIFF PILL HARD.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

My but the old Tigers did sure leave the hickory on the horseshoe at Salt Lake last week. Eddie Maier's pets just simple ran amuck with the bludgeon. This was undoubtedly the greatest swatfest they indulged in this season thus far. If they could have spared some of the hits they held over for the final week, the final would go to the Tigers with a rush and roar. Despite their footloose of bangles, the Bengals broke only even on the eight games played at Mormonburg.

The Georgians will have fifteen games available this season. Their main test of the year comes on October 25, when the University of Pittsburgh is met at Pittsburgh.

STARS AT OHIO STATE.

Coach Jack Wink of Ohio State will be for the "Big Ten" championship with one of the best backfields in the country. "Chick" Harley, an all-American halfback and former army aviator will be the mainstay behind the line. "Pete" Schuch, star end and "Freckle" Willis, man a hard-hitting fullback and Holkamp, former all-Western center, are the principal notables on the Buckeye eleven this season.

The Georgians will be led by Eddie Maier, the all-American quarterback of 1915, who thrilled the country with his wonderful punting and goal kicking. Nineteen letter men.

Of the 1916 group there are Beneke and Bratz, halfbacks; Gillies, tackle; Paul Miller, guard, and Carr, center. Strong candidates are on hand for every position in the line.

Harvard will be represented by a great backfield. Eddie Casey, a halfback mentioned widely three years ago as an all-American man, is back. Ralph Howland, a splendid center and fullback of considerable experience, is ready for duty. Billy Murray, quarterback on the Crimson eleven of 1915, will doubleback direct the team again this season.

Harvard's main worry is the line. No star veterans are in sight and the new men will be up to the occasion to work out.

The principal need of the Yale team is that of tackles. The center of the line and backfield are admittedly formidable. Capt. Callahan, center, is a good guard, and Averill, guard, will protect the middle of the Blue line.

The backfield Yale will have Joe Nevins' halfback of three years ago, Captain Lee, fullback, and splendid Peter, end. Both are of considerable experience, is ready for duty. Billy Murray, quarterback on the Crimson eleven of 1915, will doubleback direct the team again this season.

Minnesota will have the services of Eddie Knode, halfback; Eddie Wyman, fullback, who made himself famous in 1916 through his long forward passes of forty and fifty yards to Boston, all-American end, is back in the Gopher line-up. Wyman is probably the man to consider for fullback.

"Shorty" Long, an all-Western quarter of three years ago; Frank Mayer, an all-Western tackle of 1916 and Halfback Landau are among the most promising candidates. The line and backfield material is very satisfactory.

Not far behind the league's best backfield steps a giant from the "Kerry Patch" of St. Louis. Other than the fifty-third left-fielder, Hugie High, Hugie blasted out fourteen safeties in thirty-one games up and added 10 points to his record as a running back.

As the season goes two ways, Brooks has a good chance to carry off the batting honors of the Coast this year. His stick work in the last month has been phenomenal. Bill Enoch was surely as looney as Master Reynard when he crimped this bird.

"UPSTAIRS AND DOWN."
HATTON'S SOCIETY FROLIC IN PHOTOPLAY VERSION.

By Edwin Schallert.

You may or may not approve the froth and frivolity of "Upstairs and Down" as the Hattons wrote it, but you will have to grand that the doings of the idle rich in their idle moments have easy-going possibilities of entertainment. When it comes to the actual invention of the stage success, which is showing this week at the California Theatre, you can deal out an extra round of thanks to the producers for choosing Olive Thomas for the role of the "baby vamp." She is nine reasons out of ten why the Hatton character has the men making Don José look like a sideshow in a circus.

"Upstairs and Down" has always reminded me of the gossip page of "To To To." To To To put into dramatic form it was—simply frivolous and happy in its frivolity. No greater mistake could be made than to try to take it seriously. In its own particular way it is a picture of a section of life—not altogether pleasant to contemplate from lower ground, but nevertheless appealing to the same taste which demands to witness the goings-on of the four hundred in the biggest type.

The screen feature cannot, of course, go very far toward reproducing the original, but the Hatton play lives. Still many of the subtleties sparkle like the jewels of wealth and fashion.

The general story, trend and action of the original, with the action keyed in such a tempo that the bubbles of gay life fit forth a la champagne. There are in addition the parades, the midnight scenes on the beach, the automobile romp with its meeting of the Irishman and the sister, that are only spoken of in the stage.

Romance. They plays the role which Mary Servos originated here, and would that she were a counterpart for the Servos type! Interestingly, supremely suggested, the only thing that would attract a man of the temperament of the Irish "he-flirt." In the present instance I think the "baby vamp" would be with him. As it is she gets Tom Carey, played effectively by Dave Butler.

The servants, in their attitude of disarray at what goes on, are as Sprang the butler. The photoplay does not strongly emphasize the doings below stairs, as did the original. "Dangerous Nan McGrew" (Uncle Mr. Service) Al Christie has let loose the dogs of mock war and to trample the women meedrama of the fair. Far, far, far leading the parade, the new film may not be quite as laughable as "Rowdy Ann," but it is pretty near it. And it is a comic a take-off on the western melodrama.

"WIDOW BY PROXY"
SPARKLING COMEDY.

Achieving another success as great as any of her others, Marguerite Clark, that dainty Miss who knows the art of charm, plays the widow to the hilt. The widow is so bright that she sparkles, both in the action itself, and in the clever subtleties. In introducing the picture to one or two of these titles seen to reappear in many of the scenes the family tree find that their ancestors climbed that same tree with the aid of their tails. And with an ingenuity like that, we know the family pride is still in strong in this picture. It does.

The whole plot centers about the stand the two aunt Penningtons take in refusing to care for the widow of their nephew because she is the widow of their nephew because he was disengaged with their other nephew when he tries to give the widow her husband's share of his uncle's estate. This arouses the pride in the widow, who refuses to care for the man. Gloria Grey (our own Marguerite) takes it upon herself to get it, and to this end, adopts some widow's weeds and interviews nephew number two, which leads to the whole of the remainder of the story. Any one with a little imagination, who has seen and liked Marguerite Clark, can end the story as well as we could, but not nearly as well as the picture does.

Gunned Romandy, although just opening the doors of the Hall of Fame, is fast acquiring a following as evidenced by his reception in "The Dream of the Flower Girl" in which he is assisted by Isabel Verdell. The picture is a good one, with a rhythmic dance set to the very agreeable playing of Gounod's Romandy, directed by H. S. Linné. Arthur Kay has chosen for this week, Suppe's "Beautiful Galathée" as a new offering. The picture is the "Trotting 'Em Rough" is one of the latest and funniest Mack Sennett comedies, featuring the re-appearance of Teddy, the Sennett wonder dog.

MABEL BREAKS

FIRE DEPARTMENT
STOPS PERFORMANCE

Well, they've got Mabel doing a La-Loa Fuller since at last. He means those wild wine-sipping affairs that they used to put on over the glow of pink lights with a bed of gardenias in the background some ten or fifteen years ago. They haven't the same attraction for us, but this doesn't stop Miss Normand from terpsichoreing, and breaking up the circus show with her voluminous—it's all that—appears in "The Jinx"! The Goldwyn star's new picture has been presented anywhere, and it's full of bright spots, which turn joy loose and cause it to go bounding all around the lot.

"I don't care if 'The Jinx' is the best of Miss Normand has done. Her bees knees fantasy undoubtedly is "Mickey." And "The Jinx" is not another "Mickey," but it is ahead of most of her recent comedies which have practically all been musical comedy served to it in film can.

More Musical Films, Maybe.

Albert Capellani, who directed the film "Oh Boy," is as good as the "Garrison" and by so doing gave the screen one of its first big "Allegorical-comedies" is said to be preparing to "shoot" another similar success. He declares the public likes musical comedy served to it in film can.

Griffith Actor in "Danger."

Bayard Veiller's new play, "Danger," entered its second week Sunday evening in the Majestic, with a capacity audience. The quality of the action, as well as the underlying serious theme of the play are meeting with response while the characterizations have been warmly appreciated.

Edward Peil, recently a member of D. W. Griffith's players, assumed the role of Judson Osgood last night. Peil, according to Veiller, is the ideal type for the part. Peil's premiere performance drew the approbation of the audience.

been good. There are some false notes and cheap notes in the scene where she shows the kiddies how the circus is conducted, but they won't spoil the picture.

Miss Normand is the Jinx in the story. After her father died and left her on the hands of the man who manages the circus it became a weak-kneed affair. But the real Jinx, not the Jinx, but the real Jinx, is what evokes the situations and excitement of this it is said that the ordinance governing theater buildings may be subject to various interpretations, as regards such a theater as the Hollywood Community.

Still there is no doubt the Jinx always does leave a wake of trouble behind her. She can't seem to get out of the way of assistance, and this is what evokes the situations and excitement that compose the play.

The romance of Miss Mabel with the wild man stirs up the love interest, while doesn't settle down into the usual type, who follows the circus boss, who is taken off to the friendly and near-by jail by the village "constable" thereby also culminating that individual's romance with the guardian of the orphan children.

Preparations for battle and target practice will continue several days, while all the big guns must be calibrated while the ships are at anchor. Later on in the season, other vessels of the fleet will meet off the Southern California coast for squadrons and a few days.

Within a few days a big recruiting campaign will be launched to obtain men to fill the vacancies occurring through the discharge of several hundred men whose terms of service have expired. An appeal of $1,000,000 was made by Congress for advertising purposes and it is understood that a large share of this sum will be expended in California.

FORMER EVIDENCE ACCEPTED
AT NEW TRIAL OF NEGRO IN "GRAFT" ACTION.

Considerable testimony, given in the first trial of George Henderson, negro politician, who was convicted of offering and giving a bribe for police protection and was granted a new trial, will not be taken again. It was agreed yesterday when the case came up in Judge Houser's court. Deputy District-Attorney Doran and J. D. Rush, of counsel for the defense, entered into a stipulation that much of testimony already given be accepted at the new trial.

The properties, which will be brought here from the East will make a great addition to the local resources of the corporation and much new equipment will be installed to completely modernize the producing facilities.

REAL THRILLS IN FEATURES.

Real excitement was experienced by Grant Churchill, who plays the leading male role in "The Vigilantes," now showing at the Victory Theatre. When this picture was made a man was killed in the course of the picture.

The trial was continued until Monday upon representation of Mr. Rush that Le Compte Davis and other of counsel for the defense could not be present in court yesterday due to the nature of this week.

The case of George Brown, who was jointly indicted with Henderson, was to have been called yesterday but was also continued. Brown, it was said, will not stand trial, having turned State's evidence.

THREE TO BE TRIED FOR STEALING CARS.

FOURTH OF YOUNG QUARTETTE IS CERTIFIED TO THE JUVENILE COURT.

Three youths, said to be members of a gang that stole a number of automobiles in this city, were held to answer yesterday by Justice Brown. They are Thomas A. Newton, held to answer for the theft of a car owned by the Stillwell Car & Supply Company; Robert Lackey, held for receiving stolen property and joy-riding in a car owned by E. G. Allen and Joseph R. Manning, held for receiving a car owned by D. M. Baker. Harry D. Davenport, also said to be implicated in the Juvenile Court for a hearing. Deputy Dist. Atty. Heinecke added testimony that the youths had been present at the trial of the two men charged with the offense.

The art colony here has been especially interesting, with remarkable photography and color scenes shown in this picture. Many of the scenes are more like etchings than the product of a picture-camera.

ANGELENO DIES IN THE ORIENT.

Young Missionary Succumbs
to Heart Failure at Post in China.

Sudden death in a foreign field has come to William G. Colby, a young missionary sent to China by the Christian and Missionary Alliance of Los Angeles. Mr. Colby, who was a former resident of this city, was a victim of heart failure at his post in Kansu province, August 5, according to advice received yesterday by his uncle and guardian, M. V. Hartmann. Mr. Colby was twenty-six years of age. He had been in China since 1912. He leaves a widow, formerly Louise Stoll of Pasadena.

"Grand" and "The Jinx" when that tri-tribe lived in the Orient sought to devour Frankie Lee's canary, Caruso. Thanks to Mabel's agile limbs, she reached the bird ahead of the cat and the day was saved. And so Mabel and Frankie are still speaking.

FLAGSHIP AND MISSISSIPPI TO MAKE READY FOR BATTLE
PRACTICE IN HARBOR.

The flagship New Mexico and the dreadnaught Mississippi, two of the most powerful vessels in the Pacific Fleet whose home port will be Los Angeles harbor, are due to arrive Friday morning, according to Chief Yeomen Britton of the Naval Recruiting Bureau. The dreadnaught Idaho, which was also to have come to Los Angeles, will be delayed, but will probably join the New Mexico and the Mississippi for target practice about a month from now.

Preparations for battle and target practice will continue several days, while all the big guns must be calibrated while the ships are at anchor. Later on in the season, other vessels of the fleet will meet off the Southern California coast for squadrons and a few days.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Trading in the stock market today was cautious but the beginning of the long-heralded strike in the steel industry did not exert so great an influence on prices as had been feared. The same was true of last week's unfavorable bank statement.

There were several reversals after the irregular opening, but at no time was there any pronounced pressure to liquidate long holdings that fact evidently making an impression upon the short interest.

Steels, steel equipments and the shares of various other industries whose operations have largely on the outcome of the labor situation were well supported, the new exceptions being limited to utilities and minor speculative issues.

Liberty Bonds were firm but the general list was uncertain, some transactions and other utilities reflecting pressure. Total sales, par value, aggregated $12,250,000.

Old United States Bonds were unchanged on call.
